

Feather Your Nest

Kids! Adults, come one, come all! Come visit Smokey and Woodsy at the new national Forest Service Information Center! Smokey will personally greet you!

Woodsy teaches you how to be Earth Smart, in our Information Center and in yours! Check out the tools Woodsy has to offer – he can increase the value of your "neighborhood" as well! Be creative, and we can help develop your plans. Banners, display, fulfillment programs, group activities. Woodsy looks good in our neighborhood, wouldn't he look good in your neighborhood too?!

Woodsy teaches kids to take stewardship actions for our environment.

Smokey is busy at his office looking at his "fan Mail", a re-creation of the famous Wendelin picture.

Junior Snow Ranger

Visit our Junior Snow Ranger (JSR) poster display Tuesday, March 12, from 6-8:00 pm! JSR was piloted by the Salt Lake 2002 Olympic Planning Team. This Woodsy Owl fulfillment program introduces 4th and 5th graders to the wonders of winter through a variety of activities. A fun interactive web site augments the JSR booklet. The program and its assorted displays and tools are great for use in your visitor center or educational program. Try swear-in ceremonies for your budding Junior Snow Rangers!

Woodsy's pledge and the JSR Olympic trading pin help spread our environmental stewardship message!

The JSR program is a fun child-initiated learning program highlighting winter safety, recreation, animal and plant adaptations, and snowpack and watersheds.

A warm winter Woodsy greets visitors at the Salt Lake Olympic visitor center.
